

PM Planning with Adam (03/04/2026)

News for Today

- ADP Nonfarm Payroll Employment Change (Feb) Actual (63K) Forecast (50K) Previous (11K) (8:15AM)
- S&P Global Services PMI (Feb) Forecast (52.3) Previous (52.3) (9:45AM)
- ISM Non-Manufacturing Prices (Feb) Previous (66.6) (10:00AM)
- ISM Non-Manufacturing PMI (Feb) Forecast (53.5) Previous (53.8) (10:00AM)
- Crude Oil Inventories Forecast (3.000M) Previous (15.989M) (10:30AM)
- $CRWD (CrowdStrike) —  +0.4%: Edged higher after forecasting fiscal 2027 revenue above estimates, citing strong demand for AI-powered cybersecurity solutions.
- $NVDA (Nvidia) —  +0.7%: Rose after billionaire investor Leo KoGuan disclosed a large new stake, expressing strong long-term confidence in the AI boom.
- $ANF (Abercrombie & Fitch) —  -3.3%: Fell despite forecasting annual profit above expectations, as investors remain cautious about discretionary spending pressures.
- $BBWI (Bath & Body Works) —  +5.5%: Jumped after reporting a Q4 earnings beat, though the company warned of weaker sales in 2026 amid its transformation plan.
- $NVO (Novo Nordisk) —  +3.1%: Gained after the FDA issued warning letters to telehealth firms marketing misleading compounded versions of semaglutide.

- $MRNA (Moderna) — 🚀 +10%: Surged after settling COVID-vaccine delivery technology litigation for $950M — a smaller payout than investors feared.
- $DY (Dycom Industries) — 🟢 +2.9%: Rose after posting stronger-than-expected fiscal Q4 earnings and revenue.
- $ROST (Ross Stores) — 🟢 +6.3%: Jumped after forecasting annual sales above expectations, betting demand for discounted apparel will remain resilient.
- $SWIM (Latham Group) — 🚀 +21%: Soared after issuing strong full-year sales guidance and announcing the $17M acquisition of Freedom Pools.

Market Overview — Wednesday, March 04, 2026

Futures Rebound as Ceasefire Talk Emerges

U.S. stock futures edged higher Wednesday after volatile trading the previous day, as investors reacted to reports of possible behind-the-scenes ceasefire discussions tied to the escalating Middle East conflict.

As of early trade:

- Dow futures: +68 points (+0.1%)
- S&P 500 futures: +0.2%
- Nasdaq 100 futures: +0.3%

Markets were initially pressured by the widening conflict between Iran and the joint U.S.-Israel campaign. But sentiment improved after a report suggested Iranian operatives had approached U.S. officials about potential discussions to end the fighting.

Officials remain skeptical that any agreement is close. Israeli leadership reportedly wants to continue strikes to degrade Iran's military infrastructure and potentially weaken the government in Tehran.

The conflict has now entered its fifth day, with Iranian missile strikes targeting U.S. bases and Gulf-region infrastructure.

Oil Moderates but Energy Risk Remains

Energy markets remain the central focus.

- Brent crude: ~$83.48 (+1.6%)
- WTI crude: ~$75.26 (+0.9%)

Oil surged earlier in the week but moderated after President Trump suggested the U.S. may escort shipping through the Strait of Hormuz, the critical channel responsible for roughly 20% of global oil flows.

However, tanker traffic remains heavily disrupted. Natural gas prices have also surged globally after Iranian strikes halted gas exports from a major Qatari facility.

Higher diesel and transportation costs are now raising concerns about renewed inflation pressure worldwide.

Energy-sensitive markets in Asia have been particularly hit. South Korea's Kospi index dropped so sharply that trading had to be temporarily halted.

Gold Rebounds After Sharp Drop

Gold bounced after a volatile two-day swing.

- Spot gold: ~$5,176 (+1.7%)
- Gold futures: +1.3%

The metal had dropped nearly 5% in the previous session as a strong U.S. dollar pressured bullion. Safe-haven demand is now returning as the conflict continues and energy prices rise.

Still, elevated gold prices and currency strength are creating choppy trading conditions.

CrowdStrike Earnings Beat

CrowdStrike reported Q4 results slightly ahead of expectations while issuing largely in-line fiscal 2027 guidance.

- EPS: $1.12 vs $1.10 expected
- Revenue: $1.31B vs $1.30B expected

Management emphasized that increasing AI adoption across enterprises is driving additional demand for cybersecurity solutions, particularly for protecting AI models and sensitive data.

Shares were slightly lower in extended trading despite the beat.

OpenAI Eyes NATO Partnership

AI is also intersecting with geopolitics.

OpenAI is reportedly exploring a new contract with North Atlantic Treaty Organization to deploy its technology across NATO networks.

Reports indicate the system would likely operate on unclassified networks, following the company's recent deal with the U.S. Department of Defense.

The move comes after Washington cut ties with AI startup Anthropic, labeling it a supply-chain risk when the company refused to allow its models to be used for mass surveillance or autonomous weapons.

Adam's Watchlist

- $QQQ: Looking to go long off the 606.16's KL for a push up into the 610's KL and potentially the 613's KL. If we break below, I'll be going short off the 602.22's KL for a push down into the 600's KL and potentially the 596.36's KL.
 - $MRNA: Looking to go long off the 54.68's KL for a push up into the 55.69's KL and potentially the 58.42's KL.
 - $CRWV: Looking to go long off the 78's KL for a push up into the 79.80's KL and potentially the 82.89's KL.
 - $SHMD: Looking to go long off the 7.90's KL for a push up into the 8.50's KL and potentially the 9.30's KL.
 - $BBWI: Looking to go long off the 24.17's KL for a push up into the 24.78's KL and potentially the 26's KL.
 - $NVDA: Looking to go long off the 182.60's KL for a push up into the 187.47's KL.
 - $ORCL: Looking to go long off the 150's KL for a push up into the 152.50's KL and potentially the 160's KL.
-

⚡ COMMUNITY WATCHLIST ⚡

- $HOOD: Looking to go long off the 79.90's KL for a push up into the 85's KL.
 - $PINS: Looking to go long off the 19.16's KL for a push up into the 20.50's KL.
 - $CRCL: Looking to go long off the 102.87's KL for a push up into the 113's KL.
-