U.S. Futures Hold Steady Near Record Highs as AI Rally Continues

U.S. stock futures are relatively flat Thursday morning after another strong session pushed the S&P 500 and Nasdaq to fresh record highs, as optimism around a possible end to the Iran war continues to support sentiment.

- Dow futures: flat
- S&P 500 futures: +0.1%
- Nasdaq futures: +0.1%

Markets are consolidating near highs after a sharp rally fueled by easing geopolitical fears and renewed momentum in AI-related stocks.

Peace deal optimism continues to lift sentiment

Markets remain focused on signs that the U.S. and Iran may be nearing an agreement to wind down the conflict.

Reports suggest both sides are working through mediators on a framework that could restart formal peace talks as soon as next week.

President Donald Trump stated Wednesday that the U.S. had “won” the war and said discussions with Tehran had been “very good” over the past 24 hours.

👉 Market interpretation:

- Conflict may not escalate further
 - Investors leaning toward de-escalation scenario
 - Risk appetite improving again

Oil slips back below $100

Oil prices are easing as hopes for a diplomatic resolution grow:

- Brent crude: ~$99
- WTI crude: ~$93

Even with the recent pullback, crude remains far above pre-war levels after weeks of disruption in the Strait of Hormuz.

👉 Key issue:

- Energy shock still present
 - Inflation concerns remain elevated

AI mania returns to the market

AI-related stocks continue to lead the rally after strong earnings and upbeat guidance reinforced confidence in the sector.

- Advanced Micro Devices: rallied after strong AI-driven results
- Super Micro Computer: surged more than 24% on strong outlook

Analysts noted that AI enthusiasm is accelerating again, although concerns around concentration risk are beginning to reappear.

👉 Big takeaway:
AI spending boom still driving markets higher

⚠️ Breakdown: what's driving the market now?

- Peace deal optimism = bullish catalyst
- Oil prices easing
- AI momentum accelerating again
- Earnings still strong overall

👉 Market = risk-on near highs

💰 Notable stock movers

- Tapestry: higher after raising annual outlook again
 - DoorDash: surged after strong order growth outlook
 - Kenvue: slightly lower after withholding guidance tied to Kimberly-Clark deal
 - Whirlpool: sharply lower after cutting full-year revenue forecast

👁️ What traders are watching today
