Chip Euphoria Meets Middle East Uncertainty

Markets are splitting this morning:

- Dow Futures: +134 pts (+0.3%)
- S&P 500 Futures: -0.5%
- Nasdaq Futures: -1.1%

Today looks like a rotation day rather than broad risk-off.

AI leaders finally hit resistance while geopolitical pressure stays in the background.

Yesterday's Market Recap

Wednesday ended mixed:

-  Broad indexes slipped
-  Semiconductors still climbed
-  Middle East headlines remained active

Markets are still balancing:

AI momentum

vs

Oil + rates + geopolitical uncertainty

AI Trade Gets Reality Checked

The major story this morning:

 Broadcom pulls back after earnings

Broadcom delivered:

-  Revenue +48% YoY
-  Massive AI growth
-  AI chip sales accelerating

But...

Markets wanted another monster beat + guidance raise.

Instead:

- 2027 outlook stayed unchanged
- AI semiconductor target remained $100B+

CEO Hock Tan guided:

📈 AI revenue → $16B next quarter

Still huge...

...but expectations got too aggressive.

🧠 Semiconductor Watchlist

Broadcom weakness spilled across chips:

- Nvidia
- Intel
- Micron Technology
- Advanced Micro Devices

Translation:

- 👉 Not AI fear.
 - 👉 More profit taking + impossible expectations.

Middle East Update — Slight Improvement

Diplomacy gave markets some relief overnight.

Developments:

- Israel and Lebanon moved toward renewing a ceasefire
- Reports suggest negotiations involving the U.S. and Iran remain active
- President Trump suggested progress could happen as soon as this weekend

Important:

The agreement still depends on:

- Hezbollah activity
- Lebanon security conditions
- Broader U.S.-Iran framework

Market reaction:

- Oil lower
 - Yields softer
 - Inflation fears cooled slightly

 Oil / Rates Corner

Oil cooled overnight:

- Brent: ~$96 area
- WTI: ~$95 area

Still elevated vs pre-conflict levels.

Because oil eased:

 2-Year Treasury Yield eased

 10-Year Treasury Yield eased

That helped prevent a deeper selloff.

 Fed Watch

Markets remain worried about one thing:

Higher oil → higher inflation → fewer cuts.

Current focus:

- Rate path
- Treasury yields
- Inflation expectations

Any continued easing in oil could support risk assets again.

 Sector Pulse

- Industrials
 - Energy (still elevated)
 - Mega Cap Tech
 - Semiconductors
 - AI Infrastructure
