News for Today

- Crude Oil Inventories Forecast (-2.000M) Previous (-2.032M) (10:30AM)
- Aurora Innovation ($AUR) -18%: Uber announced a $1B senior notes offering exchangeable into Aurora shares, triggering major dilution fears and a brutal 18% drop.
- American Eagle Outfitters ($AEO) -13%: Shares plummeted after the retailer pulled its full-year outlook following weak preliminary Q1 numbers — confidence evaporated fast.
- Grail ($GRAL) -13%: A bigger quarterly loss and underwhelming revenue growth sent Grail tumbling, disappointing investors banking on biotech momentum.
- Alcon ($ALC) -6.1%: The eye care company missed Q1 earnings and slashed full-year guidance. Softness in Surgical and Vision Care segments weighed heavily.
- Ford ($F) -0.2%: Minimal drop, but still red. Ford is recalling nearly 274,000 vehicles due to brake system concerns — a liability watch.
- Cisco Systems ($CSCO) +0.4%: A modest climb ahead of earnings — the market's still banking on stronger AI-driven cloud networking demand.
- Novo Nordisk ($NVO) +2%: The drugmaker rallied on a new $2.2B deal with Septerna to push into oral obesity and diabetes treatments.
- Dynatrace ($DT) +3.5%: Posted strong earnings that beat expectations — the cloud performance monitoring firm continues to execute.
- Super Micro Computer ($SMCI) +15%: Massive surge after announcing a $20B+ multi-year partnership with Saudi Arabia's DataVolt. This cements its status as an AI infrastructure titan.

Dow Jones Futures +0.1% | S&P 500 Futures +0.1% | Nasdaq 100 Futures +0.2%

U.S. futures are trading quietly this morning after a strong start to the week, as investors pause to digest trade deal optimism and recent market volatility.

Wall Street Indices Mixed

Despite the Dow sliding 0.6% Tuesday (mostly due to UNH), the S&P 500 rose 0.7%, and the Nasdaq jumped 1.6% — marking the S&P's first return to positive territory for the year.

MACRO & FED WATCH

Fed speakers are lined up today, and with inflation cooling, traders are betting on a potential 25 bps rate cut by September. ING analysts say the odds of a more aggressive 50 bps cut have cooled.

Trade News Spotlight

The White House is slashing tariffs on small Chinese packages (valued under $800), down from 120% to 54%, fueling more optimism around the U.S.-China trade détente.

Adam's Watchlist

- $QQQ: Looking to go long off the 517.23's KL for a push up into the 519.48's KL and potentially the 524's KL. If we start seeing bearish momentum and start to flush to the downside ill be looking to go short off the 515.14's KL for a move down to the 511's KL.
- $AMD: Looking to go long off the 117.50's KL for a push up towards the 121.40's KL. If we see bearish momentum come in and start to flush ill be looking to go short off the 116.01's KL for a push down to the 114's KL.
